Santa To Be Back Again

The above scene will be reenacted on Dec. 21, when Santa Claus makes his annual visit to Mokena. This picture, taken last year, shows the kindly old gentleman handing out gifts to the children in the area. All of the youngsters are invited to visit Santa 7:30 p.m., Friday, Dec. 21, on Front st. The party is being sponsored by the Mokena Civic Association.

Shopping Bag To Open Doors Again Dec. 18

A new and larger Shopping Bag—a supermarket operated on Wolf road, Mokena—will be open for business next Tuesday Dec. 18.

This will be four days less than the three months time limit fixed for re-opening the store by Ralph Thoresen, the proprietor.

The store was destroyed by fire Sept. 22. Only a portion of the walls remained after the blaze. Stock and fixtures were a total loss. The building owner, Robert Ricca, began at once to rebuild the place and completed the task well ahead of schedule. The building is now 137 feet long, 37 feet longer than it was originally, and from the front of the store to the meat counter is 100 feet.

The color scheme is in pink, blue, yellow and green. The walls and fixtures in the meat department, for example, are a pink; the frozen food case—40 feet in length—is blue; the case for dairy products is yellow and that for produce is green.

With larger space Thoresen will stock more items than previously. When the Shopping Bag opened it originally carried 3,800 items. The number has now been increased to 5,200 including a magazine section. Sheaving is of steel instead of wood.

Extension of the building will not affect parking. Exterior lights are installed on all four sides of the building instead of just two sides. An incinerator for disposal of rubbish has been installed in one of the back rooms where the furnace and refrigerating machinery is housed.

A walk in refrigerator for dairy products, as well as one for meats, has been installed.

Mr. Thoresen announced that the same store hours would prevail as before, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday, thru Saturday, and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sundays.

The energy obtained yearly from crude oil and natural gas is the equivalent of the work of 33 servants for every man, woman, and child in the nation.

One out of every four floor furnaces sold in America last year was built to operate on liquefied petroleum gas.

Joliet Man Buys Welsch Co Hardware Store At New Lenox

The Welsch Lumber and Supply Co., of New Lenox and Mokena, has sold its hardware interests in New Lenox, it was announced yesterday by Walter Welsch. The consideration was not disclosed.

The purchaser is Raymond J. Reim, of Joliet. Mr. Reim has been employed for a number of years by the Barrett hardware company of Joliet, in both the retail and wholesale divisions.

While Mr. Reim will be the owner of the New Lenox hardware business he will have two associates, Eugene Staehling and Fred Staehling, both of whom are experienced in this line of business. He will carry all lines of hardware.

The Welsch Company will continue to operate its lumber yard at New Lenox and will, of course, operate its Mokena business, which includes all building supplies for contractors.

Wade Krohn, who has been with the company for sometime, will be in charge of the New Lenox lumber yard and will maintain his office in the present location in New Lenox.

Santa to Visit New Lenox Fri., December 21st

Santa Claus will arrive in New Lenox at 11 a.m. Friday, Dec. 21, at the Oak View school grounds.

The Christmas party for the children of New Lenox is being sponsored by the Lions club. All of the children in the township are invited to come and meet Santa and receive candy and presents.

Santa is planning to arrive in a horse-drawn sleigh. In case the lack of snow makes this impractical, he will ride into town in a wagon.

The Lions are still requesting donations of gifts and clothing for Christmas baskets. These may be left at Hutchins Cleaners in New Lenox or will be picked up at homes by calling New Lenox 5921 or 5611.

The term "hand" in measuring the height of a horse, is four inches.

Mokena Voters Back Program to Solve Sanitation Problem

Wilbur Francis, 76, of Pioneer Family, Dies

Wilbur A. Francis, 76, of 1812 State st., Lockport, member of a pioneer family of New Lenox township, died Sunday at Silver Cross hospital in Joliet, following a long illness. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Goodale chapel in Lockport with the Rev. G. W. Martin of the New Lenox Methodist church officiating. Interment was in Maplewood cemetery, New Lenox.

Mr. Francis was born Jan. 7, 1860 at the family homestead in New Lenox township. His father, John Francis, was one of the early sheriffs of Will county.

Wilbur Francis lived all his life in this area. He engaged in dairy farming until two years ago when he retired and went to Lockport to make his home. He was a member of the Will County Farm Bureau and the New Lenox Methodist church.

About two years ago he and his wife, the former Isabel Rowley, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Besides his wife, Mr. Francis is survived by two sons, Wilbur Harold, of Manhattan and Milton, of Lockport; two daughters, Adella, Mrs. Ray Meadows, of Lockport, and Isabel, Mrs. Roy Clark, of Alhambra, Calif.; one sister, Miss Harriet Francis, of Urbana and seven grandchildren.

Shooter Hits Training Plane

On a routine check by Chief Pilot Richard Hill of Lewis college at Lockport it was discovered that one of the Aeronca trainer planes had been hit from beneath by a bullet. From what he and Edmundo DaRosa, head of the flight department, could ascertain, the bullet was fired from a .22 rifle. It hit the left side of the fuselage, turned up the strip around the windshield and apparently bounced away from the plane. The original hit was only an inch from the gas tank and, had it landed just a few inches higher, it could have gone thru the windshield.

DaRosa reported the incident to the state police office and to Sheriff Roy Doerfler's office at Joliet. The plane is used only for flight students in the immediate area. None of the students could recall hearing the shot fired as it would be extremely difficult to hear a shot from the ground when piloting the plane.

There is an extremely severe sentence involved for anyone convicted of firing on or hitting a plane in flight.

The reason why some people get lost in thought is that it is unfamiliar territory to them.

Use Inhalator For First Time; Revive Acid Fume Victim

First use of Mokena's new inhalator was made last Saturday when Robert Matsey experienced difficulty in breathing.

He had been working with some muriatic acid, at his home and apparently was overcome by the fumes. This acid releases chlorine and Mr. Matsey's lungs filled quickly.

Mrs. Matsey called the fire department and an inhalator crew responded quickly. Firemen revived Mr. Matsey and then stood by until a doctor arrived. It was not necessary for the fume victim to be hospitalized.

Frankfort Lions Sponsor Christmas Decoration Contest

Cash awards will be made to winners in the home contest, $25 for first, $15 for second and $10 for third.

Tiny Baby Gaining; Weighs 1 lb., 11 oz.

The tiny baby girl, born in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, November 28, is steadily gaining. Weighing one pound at birth, she now weighs 1 lb. 11 oz.

The baby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Thomason, Hamilton, Ill., Mokena. She was born prematurely and has been in an incubator at the hospital since birth.

Red Cross Seeks Funds for Aid of Hungarian Refugees

The American Red Cross is now in the midst of a special campaign to raise 5 million dollars for Hungarian relief.

The Chicago chapter's share is $200,000; the quota assigned to the Will county chapter is $4,576. Some $1,200 has been raised in Will county to date.

Persons desirous of contributing to this fund may send contributions to the Chicago chapter at 529 S. W. Wash. ave., Chicago 5, or to the Will County chapter at 155 Second street, Joliet.

The Red Cross is aiding Hungarian victims of Russian brutality both inside Hungary and in the refugee centers outside that stricken country.

Mokena Resident Gets Ticket After 2-Car Collision

Salvatore DeSalvo, 70, of 11403 W. 192nd st., Mokena, was given a ticket by state police for failing to yield the right of Mokena voters have approved the $100,000 sewer bond issue.

A total of 323 persons braved the snow, ice and cold Saturday to vote on the proposal to issue $100,000 of general obligation bonds to meet a part of the cost of a complete sanitation system.

The issue carried four to one. Unofficial returns show the vote as follows:

For	259
Against	61
Spoiled ballots	3

Approval of the bond issue means that the village board can now proceed with the proposed improvement and Robert E. Hamilton, of Joliet, an engineer, can begin on the working plans.

He has made a survey of the village and the immediate surrounding areas and has laid out approximately eight miles of sewer mains. Estimates for the mains with extensions to the property lines, plus a sewage disposal plant, run to approximately $400,000.

Mayor John Scarth said the village officials are hopeful of Color Combination Of 1957 Licenses Brings Criticism

The new Illinois auto license plates are beginning to make their appearance and from comments heard the choice of color for 1957 is not a happy one.

The plates are red, almost a fire engine red, with the numerals and the phrase, "Land of Lincoln," in white.

Critics claim that this combination does not fit in with the range of two-tone and single tone colors with which car manufacturers finish their products. The license plates, one hears, should be in neutral colors.

But regardless of the color one must buy plates if he expects to drive without running into trouble with the law.

Secretary of State Charles Carpentier says Feb. 15 is the absolute deadline for affixing the new plates to one's car. And this not being a primary election year, observers opined that Feb. 15 probably will be the deadline.

One can purchase plates now direct at the branch office at 334 S. Ashland ave., Chicago, or over the counter at the secretary of state's office in Springfield. Carpentier advises persons who apply for plates, thru the mail that applications should be in the Springfield office by Feb. 1 to insure delivery before Feb. 15.

At 11:45 a.m. last Saturday, DeSalvo collided with a car driven by Edward Pierce, 36, of 3055 N. Whitney ave., Chicago, at the intersection of 195th and 114th ave., in Sunny Acres.

While driving south on 114th ave., DeSalvo made a left turn on 195th in front of Pierce who was going west on 195th, according to the police report. No one was hurt when the cars collided

Adds Rotisserie To Equipment at O-Aces Restaurant

Vern Larson, proprietor of the O-Aces restaurant, on route 45 near route 30, has added to his equipment a new gas-fired rotisserie for barbecuing chickens. This makes a new addition to his menu. Guests who want to eat in the restaurant can watch the baking of the chickens or they can be ordered ahead for take outs.

Mr. Larson, who lives with his wife and three sons in Park Forest, has been in the restaurant work for the past 15 years, five years of which as manager of Henrici's in Chicago.

Phone Company Honors Operator

For locating the relative of an accident victim after a long elusive search, Mrs. Alice Derrig of 77 Midland ave., Mokena, was chosen the "Operator of the Month" at the Joliet telephone exchange.

In response to a call from Joliet police headquarters, Mrs. Derrig was able to contact the relative in a trailer court.

The only information she had was that the relative supposedly lived in a trailer camp in or near Channahon.

Mrs. Derrig spent considerable time making calls and with much time and effort finally was successful in locating the party.

Forest Rangers to Meet Sunday

A new organization in this area formed about six months ago, is known as the Forest Rangers. They co-operate with Will county sheriff, Roy E. Doerffler in patrolling outlying areas.

They are volunteer workers. A first aid course which is a requisite.

Members are all citizens of the area who are interested in protecting their homes and property and that of their neighbors. They are on call from the sheriff at all times, and have already been of help to authorities on several occasions.

They meet every other Sunday night in the Ann Rutledge public school in Lincoln Estates. Their next meeting will be Sunday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 and they invite anyone to attend. Applicants for membership are carefully screened.

More information can be had by calling Mrs. Dwight C. Nicholson a Forest Ranger lieutenant, at Frankfort 3432.

Wanton Damage

Vandals who entered the Herman Gee home on 108th ave., near the NIKE site, in Orland Park recently, caused the above pictured damage in the bathroom of the home. They also broke windows, chopped and hacked the walls in two rooms, and broke fixtures and plumbing in the bathroom. On a previous occasion, windows were broken, the front porch wrecked, and several small trees on the property cut down by vandals. Other homes in the area also have been the target of vandalism.

Home Owners Have Trouble-- Sue Contractor

(CNS)—Even Mr. Blandings' dream house didn't give him the kind of trouble Albert and Elsie Hardtke say they had in building their house at 8747 Merrimac av., Oak Lawn.

The Hardtkes have filed suit in superior court against contractor Fred J. Fish, who they say ran out on their house-building job, leaving them holding a $10,000 bag.

It all started Nov. 2, 1955, according to the suit, when Fish advised the Hardtkes in a letter that he would build the house they had planned for $20,504.

That looked like a reasonable price to the Hardtkes and, with changes they suggested, they were happy to sign a contract Nov. 7, 1955 calling for Fish to build the house for $21,997.

That price increase, the suit says, was just the beginning. The real difficulties, the Hardtkes say, began when Fish allegedly pay his subcontractors—resulting in mechanics liens being filed in court against the Hardtkes, with other liens threatened.

Then, according to the suit, Fish gave up work on the house and it had to be finished by another contractor.

The suit asks $10,000 damages from Fish.

Wayfarers Hold Christmas Party

The Wayfarers and Auxiliary held their annual Christmas party Saturday night in the social rooms of the Methodist church at Mokena, with a large attendance.

Mrs. Clarence Gerri, chairman of the program, opened it with a prayer. This was followed by a candle lighting ceremony symbolizing the Light going round the world. All took part in this as they read the legends and customs of Christmas here, and in other lands.

After the singing of carols, Mrs. Henry Clark, read "A Night Before Christmas" which was acted out in pantomime by some of the members. Dallas Webster had the lead in this skit assisted by Mrs. Harold Behen. Taking part of the eight little reindeers were Alice and Bill Neuls, Berenice Mann, Harold Behens, Charlotte Bruce, Henry Clark, Frances Webster, and Clarence Gerri.

Santa came and was real busy filling the stockings that were hung at the chimney. His "round little belly" really shook when he laughed. In leaving he wished all a Happy Christmas and to all a 'good night'. Florence Brueser and Clarence Gerri were in charge of the props and effects.

Harley Mann had made a good supply of pop corn balls which were much enjoyed.

The group filled small containers and tied them onto the tree for the first graders when they came to school the next Monday.

Other games were played and refreshments were served, by Mrs. Henry Koenig, Mrs. William Nuels and Mrs. Gordon Bruce, which were in keeping with the season. Prizes were awarded and grab bag gifts were received, which brought the happy evening to a close.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the average hourly earnings for workers in petroleum refining last year was $2.46, compared with $1.88 for workers in all other manufacturing industries!

TRIBUTE TO NEWSBOYS

"Oh Mom," "It's only 5 o'clock and dark and snowing out. Do I have to get up?" sleepily yawns one of the newsboys of Mokena. "Yes," answers Mother, "you know that people are depending on you to deliver their newspaper early; especially the commuters who want to read on their way to work. We want you to do a good job despite the weather."

So hurriedly the newsboy dresses, gulps down a fast hot chocolate and rushes outdoors. Dressed in his snow gear, he hops on his bike to Liston's Sweet Shop on Front street. Here he and 4 or 5 other boys are welcomed indoors where it's dry and warm, to fold their newspapers properly.

Soon as their 40 or 60 papers are balanced in the bike basket, then it's a regular tour of house to house stops - petting a friendly dog here - dodging the bully one there; jumping the snow drifts (oops, landed face first that time) - skidding skate fashion on some driveways, leading the bicycle where the snow is too deep (gosh, but it's cold today) - and yet making sure the paper can be found in first class reading condition.

It's about 8 o'clock or later when our newsboy gets home, flops into Dad's easy chair and remarks, "I always feel so satisfied when this important job is done first; but now my day really begins, cause it's time for school!"

December Meeting PTG

The December meeting of the Lincoln-Way Parent-Teacher Group was held in the cafeteria Wednesday evening, Dec. 5. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Clarence Lauffer. Tom Olson, director of vocal music, was in charge of the program. Mr. Olson helped put the audience in the proper Christmas spirit despite the 60-degree temperature outside as he led the group singing of a number of familiar Christmas carols. Accompanists for the singing were two freshman girls, Prudence Rowe and Sharon Wolf.

The Girls Ensemble composed of Kay Seltzer, Janet Timm, Jo Ann Mundt, Joyce Klinger, Dona Anderson, Sheila Bennet, Cindy Morrison, Shirley Guth, and Margie Ardaugh accompanied by Carole Gilmore sang four numbers. They sang "Come Follow", "Silver Bells", "True Love", and the familiar "Winter Wonderland."

Kay Seltzer, soprano, a member of the ensemble, also sang a solo, "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day."

A special treat was the Boys' Barbershop Quartet, Wendell Anderson, Dave Eriksen, Ron Steinberg, and Larry Phifer, a group formed for the first time this year. They sang "Farewell, My Coney Island Baby", and "You Tell Me Your Dreams."

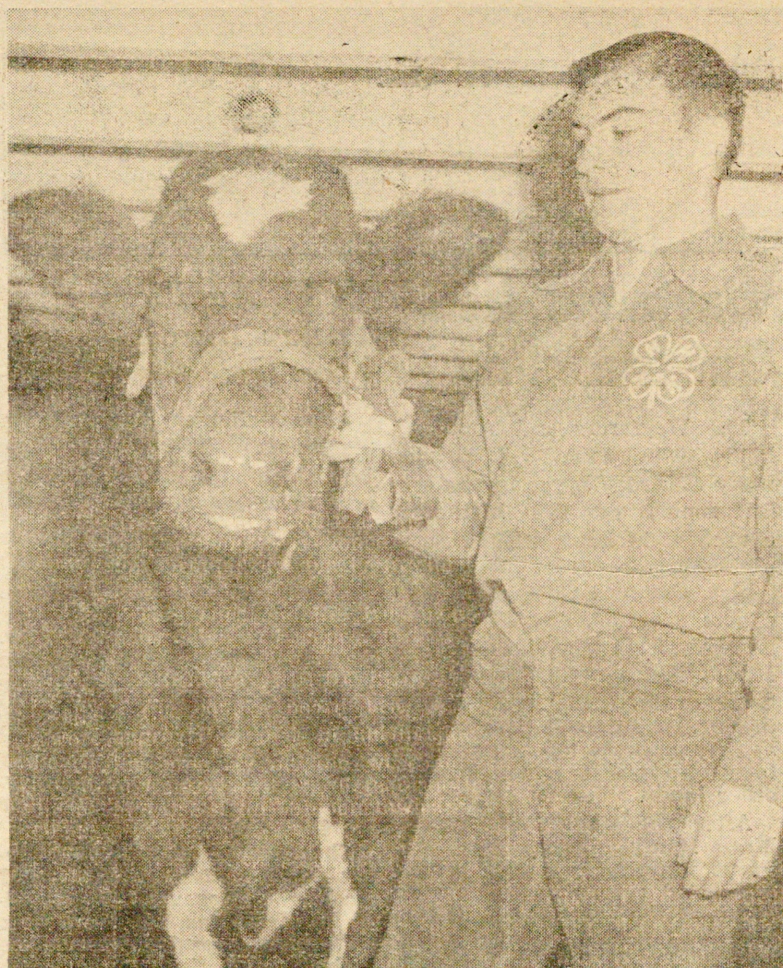

A short business meeting followed. It was called to the attention of the group that the next meeting would be on Jan. 9, rather than on January 2 which is the first Wednesday of the month.

SPAGHETTI DINNER

Saturday, Jan. 12, 1957, is the date set for the Bremen High school PTA Spaghetti dinner. It will be served in the high school cafeteria from 4:30 to 7:30 pm.

The following committees were appointed at the executive board meeting Monday night,

Area 4-H'er is One of Six National Scholarship Winners

Ronald Kollman, 20, of Harvey was named one of the six National winners to receive a $300 scholarship awarded by the Larro Sure Feed division of General Mills in the 4H Dairy program.

Ronald received the award while attending the 35th National 4H club congress in Chicago.

Julia Gray, 20, Palos Heights, also attended 4H club congress, winning her trip in the clothing project.

Everyone associated with 4H club work can be proud of these youngsters, according to William F. Whiteside, Cook County Assistant Farm adviser. We can also be pleased that two of the 30 Illinois delegates came from Cook county.

Kollman began his 9 year dairy project with a purebred Holstein calf given him by his parents, and has a select herd today of 15 animals which produce grade A milk. While accumulating the herd the boy learned all of the essential practices to successful production, and is capable of conducting a man-size dairy operation. As evidence of the confidence placed in his abilities, he was chosen to receive the Cook county dairy medal award for six years. He has been an extensive and successful exhibitor from the start of his 4H work, and is an outstanding demonstrator, judge and showman. For two years he has headed up the Cook County 4H federation, has been a junior leader four years and was named King of last year's South Cook County 4H fair. His local leaders are Herbert Kohl and Melvin Hoyer.

Miss Gray carried a diversified club program of Food Preparation, Room Improvement, leadership and clothing. She has been a junior leader for 4 years, secretary of County Federation 2 years, and was elected queen of the South Cook 4H Fair in 1955.

She is majoring in Home Economics at Iowa State College and plans to become an Extension worker in Home Economics upon graduation.

Cook County to Equip Trucks With Radios

Dec. 3: tickets, Mrs. John T. Williams, Markham; solicitation of pies, Mrs. Earl Oliver, Hazel Crest; dining room, Mrs. Charles P. Smith of Tinley Park.

This will be the only money making project of the PTA this year. A portion of the proceeds will be allocated to the scholarship fund, which is $200.00 a year. This scholarship is awarded at graduation time to a deserving student to help further his or her education.

The officers and committee workers urge all to support their Bremen PTA activities by attending the supper.

Cook County Forest Preserve to Acquire Another Golf Course

(CNS)—The Cook county forest preserve board today authorized the purchase of a 120 acre golf course near Chicago Heights.

The 18-hole "Glenwoodie Golf club" is now privately owned, but is open to the public for a fee.

In asking authority to buy the course, forest preserve district general superintendent Charles G. Sauer, told the board that if it is purchased it will be maintained as a golf course.

It will be the seventh golf course operated by the forest preserve district.

Declared Sauer, "we are committed to providing golf courses for people who cannot afford to belong to private golf clubs."

Now there's a "silent wrapper" for chocolates sold to audiences in theatres and concert halls.

trucks, snow plows and other highway units useful in disaster rescue work and 15 cars used by highway and civil defense supervisory personnel.

Six transmitting towers will be erected, at the highway department headquarters, 130 N. Wells st., and in the five highway maintenance districts—Palatine, Des Plaines, Blue Island, La Grange Park and Palos Park. Operating thru the county civil defense control center in La Grange Park, these stations will be linked with the state C. D. control center in the Museum of Science and Industry.

All highway equipment as well as other county facilities have been listed as available in emergencies since the start of the present civil defense program," Ryan said. "With the new radio system we will be able to make the most effective use of highway equipment and personnel in the event of an enemy bomb attack or a natural disaster. The federal government's aid is much appreciated."

Worldwide Bible Reading, now in its 13th year, is a program having as its sole purpose the encouragement of more general reading of the Bible.

Sponsored by the American Bible Society and a lay committee headed by President Eisenhower, it consists in the reading of a recommended passage from the Bible each day, the verses being designated on printed bookmarks distributed by the

An Answer to Automation

(Paulist Feature Service)
By John Q. Adams, President,
Manhattan Refrigerating Co.

AUTOMATION IS a word that is a source of fear and uneasiness to many of us. We read in Newsweek, "Ford's automatic engine plant turns out twice as many engines as an old-style plant, with one-tenth the manpower." All over the country it's the same story—machines and automatic devices are gradually replacing men.

There is nothing new about man's fear of machines; it has existed throughout the ages. The Industrial Revolution in England had a tragic impact upon the lives of many people. Ruthlessly workers were displaced by the first power-driven machines. They were turned into the streets to wander about homeless and hungry. In fear and desperation the workers struck back at the selfish owners of the machines.

AND NOW automation, the "industrial revolution" of our day, is bringing in its wake the threat of social and economic problems—unemployment—elimination of long acquired skills, disruption of family life of the worker by the abandonment of inefficient plants.

The peaceful solution to our revolution calls for unselfish cooperation between workers and owners, and the courageous application of sound Christian social principles. In facing up to the industrial issues of our day we must always take account of the fundamental dignity of the individual—a person who has in the depth of his being an image of his God.

Technological advances are to be welcomed if they have a constructive influence on the individual and upon those God-given institutions of marriage and the family, and private property—institutions which tend of their very nature to form him as a person.

To the spectre of unemployment we must explore the possibilities of annual wages, stabilized employment, and the retaining of displaced workers.

To the rescue of the family, caught in the unrealistic wage rates fixed for single and married workers alike we must propose continuous exploration of the family allowance idea.

Deep consideration must be given to the human problems involved before a factory is abandoned. Regard must be had for lost wages, moving expenses, and for possible losses in selling homes or cancelling leases.

Never in our times, has the Christian mind been called upon to exercise its judgement with justice and charity in a more challenging situation.

Eagle Cagers Keep Record Clear

Defeat Bremen 61-57; Set Sights For Tilt With Rockets Friday

The Carl Sandburg Eagles remained undefeated in Southwest Suburban conference play as they defeated Bremen 61-57 Friday night. A strong fourth quarter in which the Eagles outscored the Braves 18 points to 11 was the decisive factor. Undefeated in two conference starts, Sandburg entertains the high flying Rich Rockets who have never lost a conference game in what appears to be a snow-down for the conference title on Friday night. A thousand tickets for the Rich game are on sale at the high school all this week.

In the Bremen game Mark Hill, with six field goals and four free throws for 13 points, and Darrel Erickson, with four field goals and eight free throws for 16 points, topped Sandburg scorers. Hartwig of Bremen copied scoring honors on seven goals and seven free throws for 21 points. Pat Ford sparked a last half Sandburg rally as he dunked three field goals and two of four free throws for eight points the last half.

Sandburg continued their Saturday night losing streak as they bowed to non-conference foe Peotone by a 63 to 52 score. A very poor first quarter in which they were outscored 15 to 5 was the actual game difference as the Eagles struggled thruout the remainder of the game to cut the deficit without ever catching up. Sandburg outscored Peotone the last three quarters but the first quarter cold spell could not be overcome.

Richard Aird led all scorers as he looped in 10 field goals, all one hand jump shots from about 25 feet out to score 20 points. It was the highest number of points any Sandburg player has scored this year and indicated that Aird is developing into the fine shot he displayed in underclass play last year.

Pat Ford, replacing Martin in a starting role, dropped in five field goals and four free throws for 14 points to follow Aird in scoring honors. Sandburg outscored Peotone from the field 22 goals to 19 but 25 free throws by Peotone against only eight by Sandburg spelled the difference.

A sellout is foreseen for the Rich game and fans are advised to get their ticket early.

Mokena Fives Win Twin Bill From Laraway

Mokena grade school basketball teams scored their second straight DesPlaines Valley conference victories last Friday when they played at Laraway.

The heavies, the Mokena Meteors, won 20 to 16 and the lights, the Meteorites, finished on top of a 16 to 9 score.

While the scoring was reminiscent of the days before the 10-second rule when back court stalling was lifted to a fine art by some practitioners, both games were exciting and kept fans at high tension.

Mokena trailed in both games and had to come up with late rallies to win. Mokena's best weapon Friday night was its defense.

Coach Jim Wrath had nibbled away his nails and was well on his way to the first joints of his fingers by the time the half ended in the lightweight game. The half ended with the score Laraway 8 and Mokena 4, and all four of the Meteorites points were collected in the first period. They were blanked in the second frame.

Johnson and Sheridan revived Mokena hopes however early in the third period when each scored a basket to knot the count and then counted again to put the Meteorites in front 12 to 8 as the period ended. And while the Mokenas were able to score but four points in the third quarter, Laraway could come up with but one so the final score was 16 to 9.

The Meteorites won the conference championship last year and has title hopes again this season.

In the heavyweight game the Mokena team just couldn't hit, missing shot after shot, but the Meteors put up a strong defense and kept Laraway in close check.

At the close of the first period Laraway led 6 to 5 but couldn't connect in the second quarter. Mokena scored five more points while Laraway was getting one so led at halftime 10 to 7. Each team scored six points in the third frame and Mokena outscored their hosts 4 to 3 in the last period so remained on top of a 20 to 16 count. Kruzich and Yunker, of Mokena, were high scorers, the former with eight and the latter with seven points.

Mokena will play host tomorrow night to teams from Troy.

Lincoln-Way Drops 2 Thrillers
To Mustangs 72-79, Moose 70-71

BY FRED KIESLAR
Last Friday evening the L-W Knights traveled to Evergreen Park where they played a very good game only to be beaten by the Mustangs by a 79 to 72 score.

The Knights were never far behind the Mustangs at any period, but just couldn't get up. Lincoln-Way outscored their hosts in the third and fourth frames but only by two and one points respectively.

High scorers in this game were Morris Wade for L-W with 26 points and Uidl, with 29 for Evergreen Park.

Altho the Knights lost this one they didn't lose their fighting spirit for a game against the Mooseheart Red Ramblers at home on Saturday night.

This was a thriller. It was one of those basket affairs with the Knights coming out on the short end of a 71-70 score. In two periods, L-W outscored Mooseheart by two buckets, in one the Knights were outscored by two buckets, and in the other, the Red Ramblers made good a free throw. This one point turned out to be the winning one.

High scorers in this game were Morris Wade for L-W with 28 points, and Don Chapman for Mooseheart with 24.

All in all, both games provided exciting entertainment. The next home appearance is tomorrow night against Bremen with the frosh-soph contest beginning at 6:45 and the varsity game at approximately 8 o'clock.

LINCOLN ESTATES

The annual Christmas program of the Calvary Baptist church will be given by the pupils of the Sunday school Thursday evening Dec. 20 at 7:30 o'clock in the church.

A nice program has been arranged to which everyone in the community is invited.

Of an estimated seven million farm dwellings in the U. S., 95 per cent are built of wood.

GREEN GARDEN

The Green Garden Go-Getters 4H club met Dec. 9, and was conducted by Emer Roemer with 24 members and one visitor present. The pledge to the flag was given. Dues for the next year were taken. The window display was discussed for exhibiting our work. The local achievement night was set for Jan. 7, 1937. A program was planned and refreshments of pop, coffee and donuts will be served. The meeting adjourned with the pledge to the 4H flag. —Billy Krapf, Reporter.

Larry Francis Wins Prize For Corn Growing

Larry Francis (of Manhattan) a student at Lincoln-Way high school, placed third in the Pioneer corn growing contest for vocational agriculture students in FFA section 10 in Illinois. Larry obtained his high yield of 134.6 bushel per acre under the supervision of Robert Van Rheeden, vocational agriculture teacher at Lincoln-Way. Larry Larry Francis was awarded $5 for winning third place in section 10.

There were 280 high schools and 3045 students in Illinois entered in the contest this year, 104 from high schools in this section which includes Kankakee, Iroquois and Will counties.

"The plot where my corn was grown is a part of a farm that has been under a good conservation program for many years," said Larry. "The main type of farming is beef cattle feeding. Heavy applications of cattle manure had been applied to this ground for several years. Limestone and phosphate had been applied previously according to soil tests. An application of mixed fertilizer was used at planting time. Trace elements were already in the soil, well, produced with the manure. In previous years mixed legumes and grasses were grown on this field."

The corn was drilled in early May with standard setting of planter. There were three cultivations plus a final hand hoeing. Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Francis.

OIL PRODUCERS IN THE DUMPS

The citizens of Houston, Tx., will be looking at their garbage dump with new eyes from now on. The city-owned dump already boasts one well, producing at the rate of 183 barrels a day, and preparations are almost complete to drill a second. In all, plans call for drilling up to 30 wells on the property. City officials estimate that the first well alone will net Houston's 600,000 citizens about $40,000 a year. Wherever there is oil, there will be oil men to take it from the ground for the benefit of the American public.

Diamonds, sapphires, emeralds rubies and opals are the five recognized precious stones.

Committee to Study Feasibility Of South Side County Hospital

(CNS)—Cook county Board President, Daniel Ryan, says he will appoint a special committee next month to study the feasibility of a county hospital branch and clinic for the south-side.

The county board meeting discussed plans for a proposed multi-million dollar bond issue for expansion of the county hospital at its west side location but County Commissioner Charles Chaplin said he opposes such expansion until the southside branch is established.

Chaplin said the south side branch has been recommended by the health division of the welfare council of metropolitan Chicago and the Chicago Hospital Council.

Approximately $17,750,000 of the proposed bond issue would go for constructing a new men's hospital with 700 beds and for other improvements at the west side hospital; $12,250,000 would be used for improving the Oak Forest old people's home at Cicero and 159th st.

Ryan denied Chaplain's assertion that the democratic majority of 10 members on the board planned the bond issue without consulting the five republican members, which includes Chaplin. The Democrats are all from Chicago and the Republicans all from the suburbs.

Ryan said no figure for the proposed bond issue has been definitely set but the recommendations have been in the neighborhood of $25-million.

Ryan said a south side branch would be difficult to staff with doctors and nurses and would result in additional expense of seven million dollars a year in operating cost. He said the west side expansion would provide space for taking patients out of hallways and making the hospital conform with new state regulations.

Pick Durable Togs, Advises Child Expert

When you and Santa go shopping for toys, be sure to select durable ones, says Pat Robinson, University of Illinois child development and family relations specialist.

Of course, few toys are completely unbreakable, but their are degrees of durability in all toys. Since more than one child usually plays with every toy, durability is very important.

Construction is a key to durability. More and more hard rubber and unbreakable plastics are becoming available all the time, and they make good, durable toys. But beware of brittle, rough-cut edges in both plastic and metal toys.

Well-constructed toys made of hard woods are also good, but they should have well-rounded corners and be well sanded so that the child won't pick up splinters. If there are removable parts, they should be large enough to keep a youngster from swallowing them.

Almost all toys are painted today, so buy those using bright primary colors and non-toxic paint, says Miss Robinson. Most of the large toy manufacturers use non-poisonous paints.

Another thing to check is playability. If there are wheels on a truck, do they move easily? If a doll has a set of clothes, can she be dressed easily?

CUB PACK 253
(Cubmaster - Robert Siemenson)
Monthly pack meeting was held in Zion Lutheran church parish hall Nov. 30, at which time the following boys were inducted and received Bobcat pins and neckerchiefs:

Michael Baskin, Frank Craft and Tommy Rauch gained their Wolf badges. Lawrence Dober, Glen Houle and William Robinson were awarded Denner stripes.

Parents and friends enjoyed a puppet show directed and performed by the boys.

Withdraw Request to Rezone Farm Tract in Worth

(CNS)—Requests for residential zoning for 165 acres of Worth township property have been withdrawn, the county board has been advised.

The Chicago Title and Trust Co. had asked rezoning from a farming district for 108 acres on the northeast corner of 93rd Street and Harlem Avenue. The LaSalle National Bank asked residential zoning for 57 acres on the south side of 87th street, 650 feet east of Harlem ave., and on the east side of Harlem ave., 1,349 feet south of 87th st. The property is zoned partly for farming and partly for business.

The bank and the trust company acted as trustees.

BREMEN SUBDIVISION

The county board last week approved a plat of subdivision for property on the west side of Central ave., 1,576 feet south of 151st st. in Bremen township.

Individual water supplies and sewage disposal units will be used.

Approval was recommended by the county map department, which reported to the board that soil tests show the septic tanks would function properly.

FALOS REZONING

A request for light industry zoning for a 234-acre tract of land in Worth property was referred to the county zoning board of appeals by the county board Tuesday.

The request, from the Lawndale National Bank as trustee, asks the rezoning for property on the west side of Harlem ave., 684 feet south of 87th st., if extended.

The property is now partly in a business district and partly in a farming district.

Keeping up with the Joneses isn't nearly as dangerous as trying to pass them on a hill.

JOB FOR A DUTCH UNCLE

The little Dutch boy who had to stop a leak in the dike with his finger probably would have been saved the trouble if the dike had been covered with a waterproof material just developed. It consists of a layer of woven oil based nylon laminated between two layers of oil derived vinyl film. It may replace the woven willow branches used by the Dutch for five centuries to keep the sand of the dikes from eroding. This is just one instance of how versatile oil products find special uses all over the world.

SURPLUS

The Hoover Commission reports "there is still 10 3-4 years supply of WACs wool serge uniforms that were purchased during World War II. A stock card in Brooklyn indicates 100 years supply of WAVES hats." Of course the commission is urging that to eliminate such waste as this and to get better government at less cost Congress should adopt the Hoover Commission program.

Prelate Puts In Good Word For Television

By Msgr. Edwin B. Broderick (Paulist Feature Service)

The average American child, according to recent surveys, spends about 18 hours each week watching television.

There are no available figures on adults, but when you consider that cities like Boston and Chicago have more TV sets than bathtubs and telephones, you can surmise that grown-ups are not too far behind.

Many pessimists are unduly alarmed about this television trend. They talk about a "race of spectators" and a "generation of televidios" in the making. And you have all met the fellow who, biting his lips as tho his shoes were too tight, solemnly announces he "never watches TV," and calls it "a waste of time."

But you do not have to be extremists to ask questions about TV. The very fact that someone considers it a waste of time should make you ask yourself what you and your children get—or lose—from your hours before the set.

"Am I satisfied with the programs?" is an important question to ask yourself. If the answer is "No," then it is time you did something about them.

Many parents have complained to me about some TV shows. They have seen morally offensive programs and didn't know what else to do except flip the dial. Others didn't even do that much, for I have had viewers give blow by blow, quote by quote, descriptions of TV shows that they and their families should not have been watching. Remember, getting out of your cushioned chair to flick the TV dial is sometimes more than just an inconvenience; it can be a moral necessity.

Fortunately the television industry is aware of its obligation. It has voluntarily drawn up its own code which blueprints the industry's responsibility for the advancement of culture and education, for decency and decorum in production. Should you consider some show offensive, drop a polite note to the NARTB in Washington.

Speaking of criticism: Did you ever write a thank-you letter to the sponsor or to the station for a good program? You should. Being as alert to praise as to condemn is one way you can help make TV better.

Corn Program Is Voluntary

No matter which corn support program farmers chose in the Dec. 11 corn referendum, the program will be entirely voluntary, points out W. N. Thompson, University of Illinois farm management specialist. Only farmers who want to eligible for government price support on their corn will be required to cooperate in the base acreage or allotment program. A farmer who plans to sell all of his corn on the open market or feed it can plant as much corn as he wants to.

Thompson also points out that there will be no marketing quotas on corn, whichever way the vote goes. But the corn referendum does not change the marketing program on wheat which farmers approved last summer.

On Dec. 11, farmers will choose whether they want a base acreage program with soil bank required or an acreage allotment program with soil bank separate. To have the base acreage program, two thirds of the farmers who vote must approve the plan. Otherwise the allotment program will be in effect.

MOKENA VOTERS—

obtaining approximately $74,000 from the federal government in the form of a grant under a law enacted to clear streams of pollution.

Making application for such a grant will be the first order of business, Mayor Scarth stated, and he has enlisted the aid of Mayor James P. Hennessy of Joliet in pressing for the grant.

Joliet has been putting pressure on the state sanitary board to restrain outlying areas from dumping untreated sewage into Hickory creek.

While Mokena voters have approved the issue of general obligation bonds, village officials will not offer them for sale until the money is needed and thus save on interest. Mayor Scarth

Will Hold Open House

Joseph and Marge Bernadin will hold open house Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 15-16, at their new greenhouse on Wolf road, Mokena. The Bernadins came to Mokena from Chicago in 1949. They opened their first greenhouse in April, 1955. Now they have built another, with a workroom and a large refrigerator for cut flowers. They also operate a nursery and grow perennials. The public is invited to visit the new layout. (Semmler Press Photo) is in favor of waiting until such time as the government may indicate what it intends to do on Mokena's application for a grant.

Should the grant not be forthcoming then the plans will have to be tailored to fit the funds that will be available. Such alterations in plans probably would eliminate extensions to the property lines and making the disposal plant smaller, it was said.

The major portion of the cost of the program will be financed thru revenue bonds but it will not be necessary for the village to hold a referendum to sell bonds of this type unless a demand is made over a certain number of signatures.

It is generally believed, however, that approval of the general obligation bonds shows that the residents of Mokena are in favor of the sewer system and therefore approve issuance of revenue bonds.

Site for the sewage disposal plant is yet to be acquired. It is pretty well agreed that the plant will be located north of Mokena along a drainage district ditch that flows into Hickory creek. Village officials pointed out that property in the vicinity of the sewage plant would become more valuable immediately because of close proximity to sewer service.

Eventually it is expected that territory north of Mokena not now in the incorporated area will become annexed to Mokena. The ground slopes from east to west and to the north, north of the village, so that if the sewage disposal plant is built west of Wolf road it will be easily accessible to all property north of the village. Should the plant be located east of Wolf road, however, it would require lift stations to pump sewage to it and therefore be more costly to the property owners involved.

There will be one lift station to pump sewage north of front street. Pumping to the north will be easier, Engineer Hamilton said, than to pump south.

Insured Can Get Insurance On Uninsured

Motorists in many states will soon be able to buy insurance coverage that will pay them the damages they are entitled to recover if they or members of their families are injured by an insured automobile, the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters announced today.

The bureau has filed this new coverage with insurance supervisory authorities in many states on behalf of its member and subscriber companies. William Leslie, general manager of the bureau, stated. In states where approval of insurance supervisory authorities is required it has been filed for approval, he said. The proposed effective date of the "family protection coverage" as the new insurance is called, is Dec. 12, subject to approval by state insurance departments.

"Under the new coverage the company agrees to pay all sums which the insured shall be legally entitled to recover as damages from the owner or operator of an uninsured automobile because of bodily injury caused by accident," Mr. Leslie stated. "Coverage will apply even when the injury occurs while the insured is not occupying an automobile as, for example, if struck by an uninsured car while walking or bicycling. A 'hit and run' car will be regarded as an uninsured car, and coverage will apply where neither the owner nor the operator of the 'hit and run' car can be ascertained.

"Included as insureds are the named insured as stated in the policy and, while residents of the same household, the husband or wife of the named insured and their relatives. Guests are also included under the coverage while occupying an automobile operated by the named insured or spouse.

"The new coverage will be available to owners of private passenger cars that are eligible for insurance under the 'family automobile policy', which is a contract designed exclusively for insuring private passenger cars owned by individuals or by husband and wife. The new family protection coverage will be afforded at low cost by endorsement of the automobile liability insurance policy.

"It will be issued for limits of liability corresponding to those specified in the financial responsibility law of the individual state. Higher limits will not be available."

Mr. Leslie said that a similar form of family protection coverage for families not owning automobiles will be made available at the earliest possible date by means of a separate policy wherever permissible under state insurance laws.

Seal Sales Lag In Will County, Report Discloses

Some 22,000 Will county residents who received Christmas Seals in the mail this year have not sent in contributions as yet, according to the Will county Tuberculosis Association. Reminder cards have been sent to these persons.

Total contributions received to date run to some $19,000. Records show that response to the seal campaign this year is lagging as compared to last year. Contributions this year are about two thousand dollars behind those of last year.

Money realized from the sale of Christmas seals is used in research for ultimate prevention of the disease and for the rehabilitation of those who are recovering from its effects. Most of the money collected in the county remains in the county, it was explained.

New Housing Laws to Benefit Persons Past the 60-Year Mark

(CNS)—How new 1956 federal laws can provide better housing for persons above 60 years of age was the subject of a conference in the U. S. Court house last Friday attended by over 100 representatives of organizations interested in the matter.

Arthur W. Sherwood, of Baltimore, Md., federal housing administration director for Maryland and special assistant for the elderly housing program, told the meeting that if churches, fraternal, charitable, and labor groups take an interest, the liberal financing provided in the amendments can solve the problem.

"The government is not handing out anything," he cautioned. "This is not a charity program, but one in which full financial responsibility will have to be taken by the groups or individuals involved."

He said the Federal National Mortgage Administration (FNMA), known as "Fanny Mae" has been committed to make loans at 4 1/4 per cent, plus 1/2 per cent for insurance, for 30 and 40 years, for both single family and more than eight unit homes for persons over 60. This includes the down payment and closing costs for single family, and 90 per cent of replacement cost of rental units, which must be sponsored by not-for profit groups.

Distributed at the meeting was a report by the University of Chicago's community inventory to the Chicago plan commission and housing coordinator showing that 500,000 people over 65 in the metropolitan area tend to "be concentrated at low income levels, but yet to be owner occupants, possessing property high in value compared to income, or paying high rent."

Need Co-Signer

Asked during the question period how a person 60 could hope to pay off a 30 year mortgage on a single family house, chairman James C. Moreland, Chicago FHA administrator, said he would need a co-signer, probably a relative, and that the usual mortgage tests of responsibility would be applied.

In group housing Mr. Sherwood expained the living units, from a minimum of one "efficiency type" living and bedroom up, must be the principal component although the mortgage would necessarily cover also possible common kitchens, dining rooms, infirmary, recreation and chapel, if not available in the near vicinity.

A sponsoring group must provide ten per cent of the cost, however obtained, and have enough continuity and breadth to make up any operating deficit, plus the desire to "stick with it" thru some special interest in the aged.

"We are not going to allow the non profit group to take the earnings and build a church, but they will pretty much regulate what they charge and who they admit," said Mr. Sherwood. "The initial scrutiny of the group's motive is more to be relied on than future policing, we hope."

In response to questions, he said persons under 60 could be admitted to vacancies if no elderly were available, that cottage type nits on an acre of land might be approved, and that some inclusion might also be worked out for mobile home units. However, anything constructed would have to meet all requirements of FHA and the local municipality or county, "which ever is highest."

Alfred O'Connor, an attorney representing the Fraternal Order of Eagles, said his group was planning homes throughout local communities, and also the purchase of an 8 story loop hotel.

Moving to Suburbs

The U. of C. report predicted that the nearly 70 per cent of 404,000 persons over 65 living in metropolitan area who were with in the city by the 1950 census, will decrease by spreading into the suburbs.

"This assumption may be erroneous: the smaller dwelling units, closeness to stores, transportation and the provisions made for older people, may influence it," the report said.

The problem exists although only three per cent of those over 65 were in institutions and four per cent in "quasi households" such as rooming houses and hotels, six per cent for men.

The report showed 48 pct. were "heads of households," including 19 per cent living alone and four pct. with no relatives in their household. Another 18 pct. were parents of the household head (25 pct. among women but only 11 pct. for men,) and 15 pct. as wife. Only 400 over 65 lived with a parent as head, or .1 pct.

The report shows interesting comparisons in that 59.4 pct. of the men in Chicago, but only 30.2 of the women over 65 are living with their spouse (65.4 and 32.7 in the suburbs); that 4.3 pct. of the men are in the labor force but only 9.4 pct. of the women, and that 15.4 pct. of the men and 51.4 pct. of the women have no income.

In Chicago, 13 pct. of the persons over 65 were receiving public assistance. No figure was available for the suburbs.

It was Mr. Sherwood's eighth conference, starting in Los Angeles.

Farmers Can Refinance Loans Thru FHA Aid

Additional details of Farmers Home Administration loans for refinancing of debts were explained today by Robert C. Becker, the agency's local supervisor.

These loans help farmers who are otherwise in a sound position but who are unable to meet their present obligations and need credit on more favorable terms and conditions than are currently available from other lenders. Both real estate and operating loans are available for refinancing purposes to owner-operators of farms no larger than family-size. Operating loans for refinancing purposes may also be made to part-owners and tenant operators. The applicants must have adequate security and be carrying on sound farming operations.

The purposes for which loans may be made include refinancing secured real estate debts and the payment of debts secured by liens on livestock, farm equipment, and harvested feed. Under certain conditions loans may be made for the payment of unsecured debts.

Loans will not be used to refinance any debt until it has been determined that the present creditor or other credit sources are not able to provide the applicant with adequate credit on terms that he could reasonably be expected to meet.

The applicant must be of legal age, be a citizen of the United States and have had farm experience sufficient to indicate reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations.

Like other FHA loans, the eligibility of the applicant is determined by the local county committee. Additional information may be obtained at the FHA Office at 110½ E. Jackson St., Woodstock.

More than 300 Illinois farmers are using irrigation to beat the drouth.

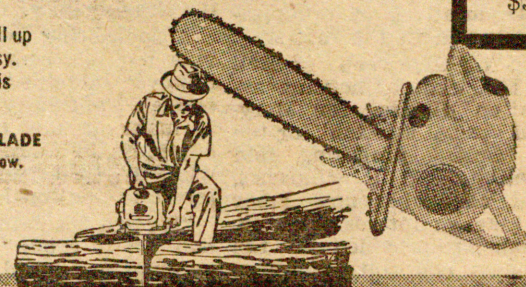

Defective heating and cooking equipment caused 80,000 building fires last year.

The exciting Ford Fairlane 500 Club Victoria (above)—over 17 feet long—is one of two new, bigger Ford sizes this year.

If you think it looks new...
wait till you drive it!

...For there's where Ford's newness really pays off
...in melting mountains...in smoothing the bumps
...in straightening the curves

You can see that Ford's longer, lower Sculptured Look makes other cars look downright old-fashioned. But the part you can't see—the new "Inner Ford"—is what shows its stuff when you drive a Ford. It's revolutionary from the wheels up! And it feels it.

Ford's wider frame lets you sit sweet and low. It lets Ford hug the roads because of its lower center of gravity. And Ford's new front suspension, rear springs and new easy handling are part of the scheme to make you think every road is cloud-smooth.

The magic touch of the new Ford power plants makes mountains disappear. What looks like uphill feels like downhill. You get this surging power in a wide choice of new Silver Anniversary V-8 engines. Or you can choose Ford's new, more economical Mileage Maker Six, the most powerful Six ever offered in the low-price field.

There's magic in Ford's price tag, too! You won't believe this big new Ford is still priced Ford-low. But it is. Come in and test the magic of the new kind of Ford. It's a real "Wizard of Ah-h-h-h's!"

"The March of Dimes is determined to finish the fight against polio this January," Collings said, "by promoting increased use of the Salk anti-polio vaccine. March of Dimes funds have made possible. Health officials believe that through extensive use of the Salk vaccine, epidemic polio can be eliminated in 1957. The only job then remaining for the Polio Foundation will be the care of more than 1,625 local polio patients depending upon March of Dimes funds."

Our responsibility includes both the polio vulnerable as well as the polio stricken."

Collings who is employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., has served as a member of his local zoning and school boards, was village trustee in Oak Lawn from 1945 to 1949 and village president between 1949 and 1953. that's THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE
ILLINOIS STATE
BAR ASSOCIATION

We Americans consider as fundamental the rights of every person to own property, to sell or rent it as we please, and to pass it on to our heirs at death. We are jealous of our right to do with our property as we please.

The information should not come as a surprise, however, that titles to land are not absolute, and that the land we own may be taken for use by the public in case necessity requires it. The power which is vested in certain bodies to acquire private property for public use is known as the "power of eminent domain", or the "right of condemnation". For example, villages, and cities highway commissions, park districts, railroad, airport authorities, and other governmental units and public utilities have been given the power to acquire land from private owners in a coercive fashion, in order that it may be put to use for an authorized public purpose.

Just Compensation

The federal government and the states have inherent power or eminent domain over property within their boundaries. As to all other bodies, the power can be acquired only by statute, that is, by a written law passed by the legislature. It is to be used only if the body is in need of land in order to carry out its function. And, in every case, the landowner is entitled to receive just compensation for his land, measured by its present fair market value for the highest and best use to which the land can be put.

How the Proceeding Works

After deciding that it is in need of land to perform its function, the condemning body determines exactly which land it desires to acquire. Let us assume that your property, or a part of it, falls within the area to be acquired. Here, is the general procedure that will usually be followed. First, a formal offer will be made to you for your land, the amount being based upon a recent appraisal of the land by a competent appraiser. Many condemnation proceedings end at this stage, with the landowner and the condemning body agreeing, by negotiation, as to a mutually acceptable price.

If, however, the amount offered is not acceptable to you, and negotiations fail, the condemning body will file a petition in the local district, circuit or county court, setting forth, among other things, a description of the land to be taken, list of all persons having a recorded interest in the title. This petition asks that the court fix a fair price to be paid to you for your land. A summons will be served upon you by an officer, and upon all others named in the petition, if they can be found in the state. Those who cannot be located are given notice by one of those legal notices you may have seen published in the local newspaper.

Finally, if you are still unable to agree on a price, a date will be fixed for trial of the case. You have the right to demand a jury trial and you may insist that the jury go to see the premises to get a better idea of its value. The only question to be decided is how much money you are to receive. Both the federal and state governments have power, under certain conditions, to obtain immediate possession of the property, leaving the question of compensation for later decision.

Proof of Damage

Normally, both sides will have experts testify as to the present fair market value of the land. Various types of evidence are admissible to prove this, such as recent sales of other similar lots in the same area. If only a part of your lot is to be taken, you may collect both for the value of the part taken and for the damage caused to the part that is left.

After the evidence as to value is all in, the judge or jury makes its findings, returns a monetary verdict and the case is over. It is possible that the jury will award you more or less than was offered.

In many instances, the parties are able to agree on the amount of compensation to be paid, and they avoid the trouble and expense of litigation. This is possible where the condemning body makes a fair offer to the landowner for his property. Most persons whose property is to be condemned realize that, altho they may be seriously discommoded by this power of eminent domain, their personal interest must give way to the public welfare and the progress of the community, so long as they are fairly compensated for their loss.

MISS SLICK CHICK'S QUESTION BOX

Mrs. Housewife:
Why does the color of the yolk in eggs vary?

Miss Slick Chick:

On any farm there are various grasses and weeds that a flock may eat. These will make the yolks very dark yellow or even a greenish tinge. Peppers will cause a reddish tinge. Too much corn or alfalfa will also make a dark yolk. Most customers prefer eggs with pale yellow yolks.

STECH'S "FARM FRESH EGGS"

have pale yellow yolks, because the flocks are confined, fed the best of feeds, and the right amount of corn and alfalfa to keep the yolks light in color.

F.H.A. BUSY

The homemaking classes and the Future Homemakers of America and their sponsors, Mrs. Mildred Foster and Miss Ann Walker, have been kept quite busy with a number of varied activities.

Kay Seltzer, a student in Home Economics III, spoke to the Home Ec I and II classes Dec. 6 on Christmas decorations. She also exhibited a doorpiece for the home for the Yuletide.

The Home Economics II classes entertained the faculty at a tea Dec. 5 during first and fifth hours.

F. H. A. activities started before Thanksgiving with the preparation of two baskets for needy families in Mokena. On November 30 a slumber party was held in the homemaking room for the purpose of sewing costumes for the "Coketail" party the F.H.A. was sponsoring. On December 4 the F.H.A. officers served coffee and rolls to Mr. VanRheeden's adult education class.

The "Coketail" party held December 5 in the gymnasium attracted over 250 students for dancing, a floor show, and refreshments.

Next Friday and Saturday, Dec. 14 and 15, Betty Lichtenwalter, public relations chairman for the state F.H.A. organization, and Miss Walker will attend a State Executive Board meeting in Springfield.

The two chapters of the F.H.A. this year have merged into one group with co-officers for each office.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUBS

The second issue of the State Industrial Arts Newsletter was finished and mailed Dec. 10. Virgil Hammond is State News Editor for the Industrial Arts Clubs of Illinois. The cover for this issue, a Christmas scene, was designed by Kenneth Kenney, art instructor, and was silk screened by Joe Kruzich and his industrial arts class.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

The second hour speech and dramatics class under David Cook will present "Songs of Glory" in the Christmas assembly program Dec. 21. The theme of the play is an angel's coming to earth to find why the real meaning of Christmas is gone from the activities of the people. The choral music department under Tom Ohlson will provide the musical part of the assembly program.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS

The Future Business Leaders of America held its installation of officers the last club meeting. Initiated were Joan Teague, president; Darlene Wahl vice president; Jeanette Sievert, secretary; Dorothy Beam, treasurer, and Karen Wade, reporter.

The club's main fund-raising function this year has been the sale of cupcakes once a month.

LATIN CLUB FIELD TRIP

Latin club's plans for the Christmas holidays include a field trip into Chicago to see the new Cinerman production "Seven Wonders of the World", and "The Ten Commandments". In the schedule also is a visit to the planetarium.

CLASS NOTES

Arts and Crafts I classes are preparing to sculpture a bust of a fellow class member in clay by molding animals, small vases, and containers.

Arts and Crafts II classes have just finished a unit on commercial art in which they used the air brush, silk screening, linoleum block printing and case in painting. English II classes, under Miss Mary Shive, in connection with a "Theatre Unit" they are now studying, will present "The Trysting Place" by Booth Tarkington December 18 for members of the English I classes. The play is the practical application of the procedures learned in the unit for putting on a play.

Freshman social studies classes are assembling an exhibit of projects students are completing in the unit "Safety and Transportation" which they have been working.

RADIO CLUB INVADES CHICAGO

Dec. 1 the Amateur Radio club started a tour of radio and television stations in Chicago.

The first station visited was WJJD where the functional breakdown of a radio station was explained and observed. Interesting facts learned were that WJJD's input power to their antenna is 50,000 watts, all news is received by teletype, perfect timing and the ability to anticipate mechanical troubles are necessary to keep the station on the air, a constant volume level must be maintained so that the modulation of the transmitted signal remain as close to 100 per cent as possible, and the program is relayed by telephone lines from the studio to the transmitter in Des Plaines. Next on the agenda was WFMF-FM. Here everything broadcast is recorded or transcribed; nothing is done "live." It is also a self-containing station where all equipment is located in the same building. Everything from the cost of a single tube to what F.M. means was explained.

In the afternoon WBBM-TV was invaded. Here we found an altogether different system. We were allowed to mingle among the equipment and personnel while a program was being rehearsed. We were so much a part of the program that we were even pictured on the TV monitors.

Everyone has his responsibilities well in hand because of the tremendous cost of mistakes. The studio floor is buzzing with actors, cameramen, lighting men, stage hands, and the floor director who answers to the head director in the control room.

The rehearsal was a clowning period with many mistakes, and surprised we were to see the program presented to perfection fifteen minutes later.

When you fire a volley of censure at somebody else, you may not feel the recoil at once, but it is present as surely as you are.

The money and credit policies of the Federal Reserve board will have a rough time this week. The senate-house subcommittee on economic stabilization under Rep. Patman, has started hearings on the "tight money" policy of the F.R.B. Patman is credited with a rather critical attitude toward the Federal Reserve.

Most bankers, however, agree that there must be some control over the money and credit market or the price level would rise very appreciably. Some proponents of the F. R. believe that the F. R. did not create the tight money situation, but rather let it find its own level thru supply and demand. The raising of interest rates paid by banks on time deposits, is meant to increase savings by increasing the reward.

Critics of the F. R. point out that the inflationary spiral cannot be controlled merely by controlling money and credit.

The newly elected head of the Investment Bankers Association of America stated that the tight money policy "can no more stop inflation that arises from other sources than a lightning rod can put out fire". The inflationary pressures he mentions as arising "from other sources" is likely meant to point out that the F.R. has control of money and credit, but does not have control of the large labor unions and their constantly rising demands for wage and benefit increases.

The gross production of the United States between July and September of this year, increased about $5 billion. This is very substantial, but it is pointed out that about half of this increase was due to price increases rather than additional production.

In addition to the domestic pressures on the price structure and inflationary tendencies, we are now faced with an international situation that could be difficult. We shall certainly be called on to make substantial contributions to both England and France. The economics of both of these countries are in critical condition. Any serious disturbances in the economies of these countries, would soon have an adverse effect on our own economy. Vice President Nixon undoubtedly spoke for the administration when he spoke last week at the National Automobile Show in New York. Mr. Nixon began his comments on the international situation by pointing out that "neither we nor our allies were without fault in handling of events that led to the crises in which we now find ourselves." He said we would have to give generous aid in solving the economic problems of our allies and also that we have an obligation to aid in the final settlement of the Middle East situation. It is obvious that our defense spending will increase rather than decrease.

Carrol M. Shanks, president of the Prudential Insurance Co. in a recent report, states that private and public consumer demand is likely to exceed production increase. This, of course, makes for price increases. He points out that serious danger of inflation mars the otherwise optimistic business picture.

Some of the investment analysts have become very selective in their suggestions as to common stocks at this time. They show a strong preference for firms with proven records of earnings and positions in their industries.

Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love. (Romans 12:10.)

In a lecture, a missionary said, "I was sent as a missionary to the Philippine Island, but when I got there I was disgusted, for I did not look at the people as human beings or as brothers in Christ. I said, God made a big blunder in sending me here as a missionary to these people."

"I went to a high mountain to pray. To my surprise, I was filled with the spirit of Christ. I came down with the purpose of receiving the people as brothers in Christ and of treating them as human beings, and of thinking of their rights. Then the people were won for Christ."

It does not matter how much we say we love a person, it does not matter how much we help to feed, clothe or shelter him, we have lost his heart if we cannot treat him as a human being.

Many a time we have come short of the fellowship of Christian love. Did Jesus not say "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another?"

PRAYER

Dear Father, teach us to love one another with brotherly love so that, as Jesus said, all men shall know that we are His disciples. In the name of our Master, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Christ helping men, I will today express Christian love for everyone I meet.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services Sunday, December 16.

Scriptural readings include the following from Isaiah (55:8-11): "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it."

From "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read. (507:24-25): "Infinite Mind creates and governs all from the mental molecule to infinity."

Laguna Woods

Mrs. Robert Anderson
Fieldbrook 9-2857

The Cub Scouts held their monthly pack meeting, Dec. 8. Den 3 was honor guard for color bearer Bruce Niebrugge. Chuck and Ray Cotter received their gold arrows for 10 achievements accomplished.

Norman and Mark Hegyi were over night guests of a boy friend in Lansing Friday and attended a basketball game there Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy returned Tuesday from a few days visit with his mother in Detroit, Mich.

Every one is sorry to hear of Gary Sneddens allergy, who suffers from asthma as a result of the allergy. He seems to be allergic to feathers, wool, milk, and Milk products.

Mrs. Henry Anderson has been a patient at Little Company of Mary hospital since Saturday when it was discovered she had pneumonia.

We were sorry to hear of the sudden death of Wm. Bell's father who died of a heart attack in his home, a week ago.

Mrs. William Donahue and baby daughter, Nancy Carole were in an accident Sunday evening on the way to Laguna Woods. Mrs. Donahue's car was stopped at a red light at the intersection of 135th and Crawford when suddenly there was a squeal of tires and a crash! The unidentified driver of the other car plowed into the back of her LaSalle. Mrs. Donahue was quite shaken up and complained of aches in her back and in her neck. The baby was in a portable car bed on the floor of the back seat where she was placed when her mother left from home and was taken to a doctor for a check up after the accident as the child had an upset stomach and was crying. The man who drove the other car was intoxicated and left the scene of the accident when the baby started to cry. Witnesses reported his car to be traveling about 40 miles an hour and knew he was going too fast to be able to stop in time to avoid the accident.

Penny Yoman of Palos Heights returned home Thursday evening after two weeks in the hospital.

Marine Vets Can Shorten Reserve Obligations

The U. S. Marine Corps Reserve is now affording Marine veterans who were on active duty prior to August 10, 1955 the opportunity to shorten their Ready Reserve time by as much as five years.

In order to take advantage of the skills and experience of these Marine veterans, the Marine Corps Reserve has been given executive approval to join veterans for one year of satisfactory participation in their home reserve unit. At the completion of the year of participation the reservist will be placed in the standby reserve for the remainder of his obligated service.

The standby reserve has a limited liability for call up in event of a future national emergency, whereas the ready reserve would be the nation's first manpower pool to be called to active duty. All veterans in service prior to Aug. 10, 1955, incurred a ready reserve obligation of eight years.

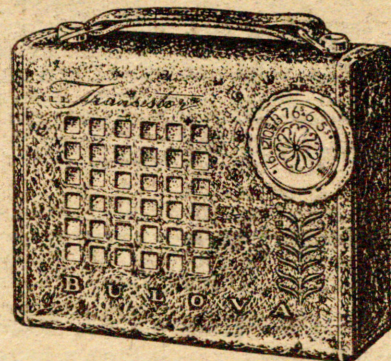

Major George Shepley, the commanding officer of Joliet's 9th Automatic Weapons Battery USMC Reserve, stated that this program is of limited duration and will expire as of July 1, 1957. Thereafter, veterans must remain in the ready reserve for their entire eight years of obligated service unless previously joined in this one year program. No change in status is incurred during participation in this one year program with the home reserve unit. Participation at no time increases liability, but decreases the veterans ready reserve obligation by as much as five years. Veterans of other services may also apply for this program.

For detailed information, the Marine veteran may personally

A nurse will be present at Maue school to give hearing and visual tests to school children during the day Thursday, Dec. 20. She will be assisted by Mrs. Paul White, PTA Health chairman, and other PTA volunteer helpers.

At a board meeting of the Maue PTA Wednesday, it was announced that the annual Christmas program is scheduled for Thursday evening, Dec. 20. Students and teachers are working hard and the usual fine program is expected. Santa Claus will be present.

Mothers are asked to bring cookies for refreshments.

Cub Scouts

Cub Scouts, den 5 of pack 218 made Christmas decorations at their regular Thursday afternoon meeting, held in the John Cruise home. Members are looking forward to the Dec. 21 meeting and Christmas party of the pack, where they will exhibit their recent handicraft projects, the gifts for their mothers and the Christmas decorations.

The Cub Scouts are also helping the American Legion auxiliary bring cheer to others less fortunate than themselves. They are contributing candy and packages of gum which will be sent to the 40 and 8 club, and they are cutting out pictures which will be sent to a children's hospital where little shut ins will enjoy pasting the pictures in scrap books.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Cummins entertained at an early dinner, Sunday, at which three daughters and their families were guests. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nolan and children of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Deen Taylor and children of Tinley Park and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker and children of Apine.

Later all called at the parsonage of the Marley Community Baptist church where the Cummins' daughter and husband, the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Hamer, had open house from 2-4 p.m. In the evening all were again guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Hamer, who entertained with a turkey dinner in honor of their daughter Sharon and her 7th birthday.

4H Achievement

Robert Stellwagen and Arthur Maue were appointed Junior leaders and Duane Erickson was elected president of the Orland

Boy's 4H club at the achievement meeting of the club held in Maue school, Monday evening, Dec. 3. With the appointment of Bob and Art, the club now has four Junior leaders. The others are Darrell Erickson and Edward Lee Mrosek Jr. Combined, these four young leaders represent achievement in almost every phase of 4H club work and because of their experience are well qualified for leadership.

The achievement meeting came to order with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, Darrell Erickson presiding. The main business of this meeting concerned the distribution of awards for the past year of club work and the election of officers.

Awards were distributed by leaders Walter Bernard and Edward Mrosek, with top honors going to Leslie A. Yunker, who was a State Project Honor member and who received, besides a certificate, a State Project honor medal and bookmark. The club was proud to receive a certificate of county recognition in National 4H Health program, much of the credit for which goes to club mothers who got behind the program.

Other awards were: Leaders and Junior leader achievement certificate, Walter Bernard, Edward Mrosek Sr., Darrell Erickson and Edward Lee Mrosek Jr.

Junior leadership pins: Darrell Erickson, Edward Lee Mrosek, Jr. First year certificate and bronze pin: Melvin S. Yunker, Allen Matulis, Ronald Sons Rodney Knieriem, Wayne Matulis, Mike Stankus.

Second year seal: Larry Reeves, Roy Bettenhausen, Donald Gee, Robert Stoutenour, David Bukowski, Owen M. Homering Paul Johnson. Third year seal and silver pin, Arthur G. Walker.

Fourth year seal: Leslie A. Yunker, Laurence Lauffer, Duane Erickson, Richard D. Meier, Joseph Albert. Sixth year seal and guard, Arthur H. Maue, Walter Reeves, Robert Stellwagen.

Delegate to Wildlife Conservation camp 1957—Edward L. Mrosek, Jr. County Public Service blue ribbon awards, Roy Bettenhausen, Edward Lee Mrosek.

County medal winners in electricity and Soil and Water conservation, Edward Mrosek, Jr., Entomology, Robert Stellwagen.

Before the election of officers it was announced that junior leaders would not be eligible for election to office. Results of the election were: President, Duane Erickson; vice president, Laurence Lauffer; secretary and treasurer, Roy Bettenhausen; recreation chairman, Robert Stoutenour and Owen Homering; reporter, Arthur Walker.

Four new members were welcomed by the club. They are Donald Bettenhausen, Allen Andersen, John Stellwagen, and James Walker.

All members signed a Christmas card which was sent to their absent leader, Norman Bernard who is in the service and stationed in Germany.

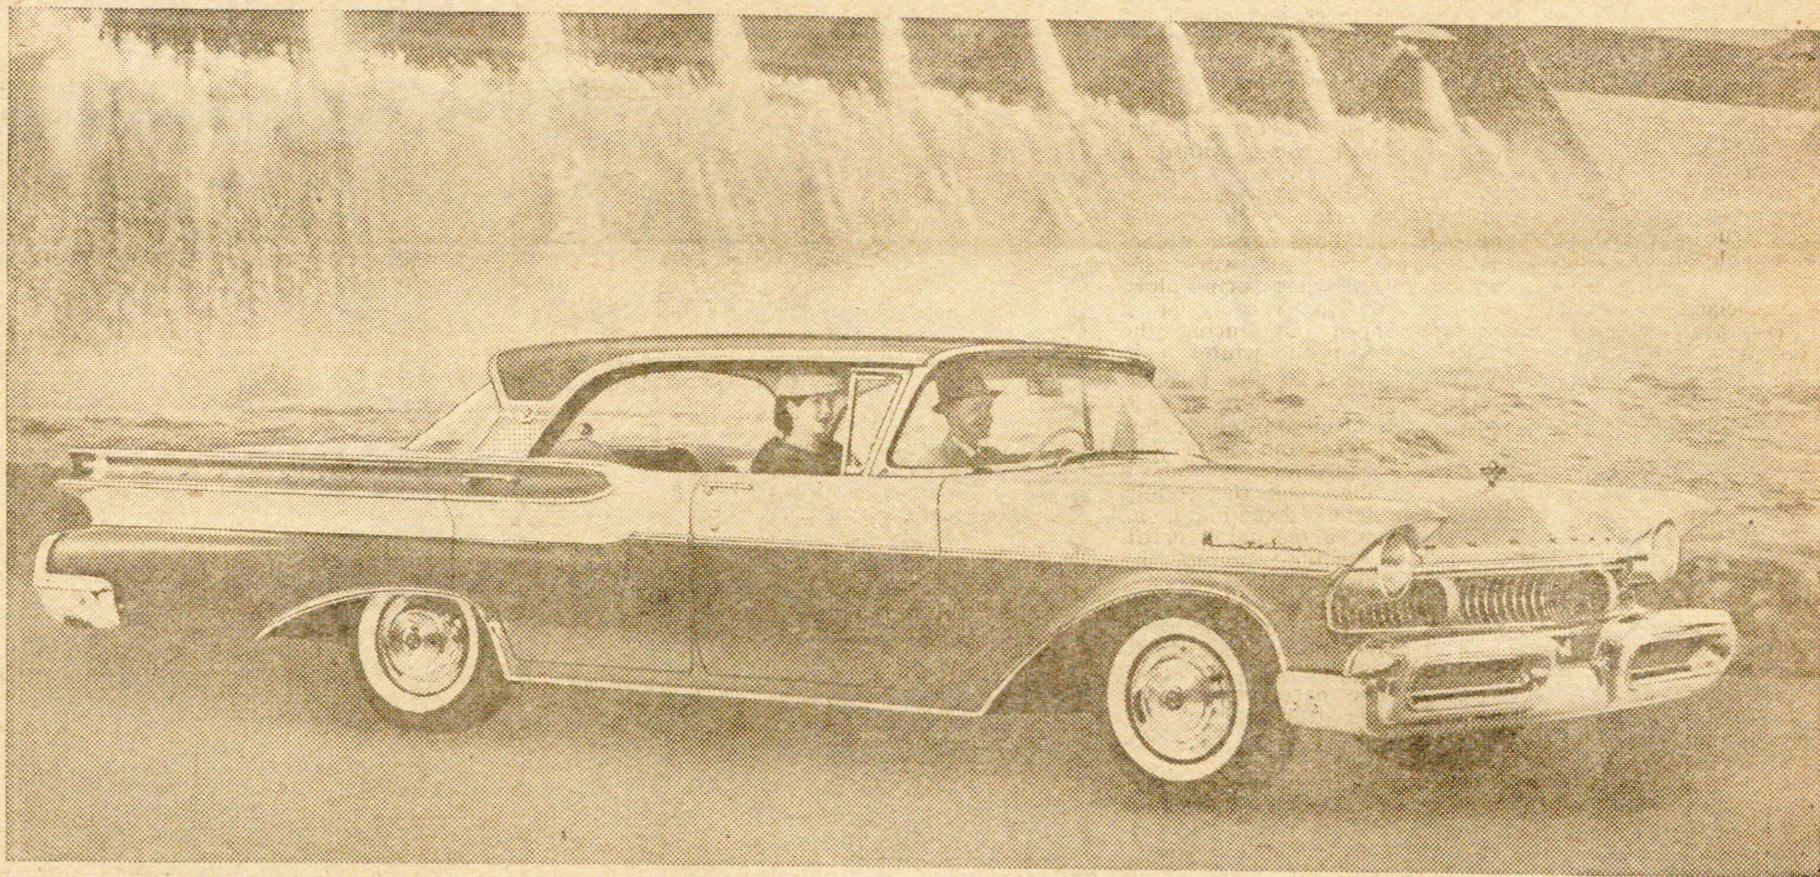

The meeting closed with the 4H pledge and all adjourned to the basement where refreshments were served from a table covered with a Christmas cloth.

A large cake, unusually beautifully decorated with the 4H motif was the center of attraction. All 4 H's were grateful to Mrs. Richard Erickson who had ordered the cake for them and for the trouble she had taken to give the achievement meeting such a delightful ending.—Arthur Walker, reporter.

Winged Performance and a Floating Ride make The Big M the road-hungriest car ever built BIGGEST SIZE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—Mercury is now over 17½ feet long, more than 6½ feet wide. Wheelbase is a big 122 inches. Inside there are inches more headroom, leg room—as much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars.

3-WAY POWER CHOICE

New 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8—Wait till you feel its silk-and-dynamite performance! Optional on all Montclairs and Montereys.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8 with Power-Booster Fan—A Mercury "first" in the Montclair Series. The engine fan coasts when not needed for cooling. You save horsepower other cars waste, enjoy a far quieter ride.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8—Dream-car performance in the Monterey Series—Mercury's lowest priced line! Features another Mercury "first" which you get at no extra cost on all Big M engines for '57—a Thermomatic Carburetor. It automatically controls the temperature of the air the engine breathes—helps keep it uniform summer and winter. Engine starting is easier, usable power and economy are increased.

YEAR'S MOST IMPORTANT RIDE IMPROVEMENTS

Exclusive Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers—One of Mercury's great Floating Ride features. The first shock absorbers in the industry to give such amazing bump-smothering control on rough roads without sacrificing a soft, satin-smooth ride on average roads.

New Swept-back Ball-Joint Front Suspension—Mercury introduces a new improved version of its famous suspension system. Because of the new swept-back design, the front wheels are now, in effect, pulled gently over bumps, rather than pushed into them.

New balanced weight distribution greatly reduces nose dipping on sudden stops and lurching on fast starts.

New road-hugging center of gravity—Everything is lower. Car height, passenger compartment, frame, and rear axle. You enjoy an amazing sense of "nailed-down" stability on curves.

You've got to feel Mercury's new Floating Ride to believe it. We invite you to do just that, today, at our showroom.

John W. Allen, Teacher, Retires But Allen, Writer, Keeps On

(NOTE: Because of the unusual interest in this series of features on Illinois history and folklore, John Allen, now serving as president of the Illinois State Historical Society, has agreed to continue his writing altho he has been retired officially from the staff of Southern Illinois University.)

By John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University
Perhaps anyone who has spent a lifetime at a particular task should be allowed to pause and reminisce a bit when the time comes for parting. That time is here for the writer and although reminiscence and 'reminiscence' sound much alike, he wants to claim the privilege.

Just over 62 years ago a bare-foot lad trudged along a dusty Southern Illinois road to his first day in a country school and into a new world. That youngster had to thought whatever that the schoolroom to which he was introduced that day would remain a first interest through life and that before he left it time would sprinkle his head with chaff dust until his hair was white. Such proved true, however.

It was the thought of this ending that brought him to sit a while during the afternoon of his "last day of school" and muse over the years during which he has been associated with school work in various ways.

The memories are pleasant ones. Though there were disagreeable features connected with occasional incidents that are recalled, time has somehow dulled the sharp edges. The pleasant features have been more enduring.

Thoughts of retirement and of the many years spent in schoolrooms bring few regrets. Such regrets as there are arise chiefly from things not done, sins of omission rather than those of commission. Altogether, retirement is welcomed. This is particularly true since it comes while reasonable health and vigor remain.

The financial rewards of teaching have been very modest, but on the other hand the pleasant memories, the friendships and the associations formed during the years have reached astronomical proportions and somewhat compensate for the money shortage. Anyway, by strict observance of the latter half of Benjamin Franklin's admonition, "Earn more or want less", a reasonably comfortable life can be lived.

Many of the features of the schools I first knew have disappeared, and these passings have aroused momentary regrets, now only dimly remembered. It has been pleasant, however, to see the improvements that have come.

The entire school pattern of that day was different from the one of the present. Then, with muddy and sometimes impassable roads, school district were small. One room schools dotted the countryside. Now, those one-room school are fast disappearing. Despite their handicaps and deficiencies they did a good work.

These earlier school with their strange bits of equipment and fitting appear odd today. Gone are the long, home-made recitation benches, the double desks, the blackboards painted on the walls, the wood burning box stove that was red-hot one instant and almost cold the next.

Gone also are the clusters of wraps and lunch pails that were found beside the front door, often in an anteroom where the food would freeze before noon-day intermission. Gone also are the pointer and the switches that often reposed on nails or pegs on the wall behind and above the teacher's desk as silent admonitions to better behavior. Likewise, the wooden water bucket with its common drinking cup, dipper or even a gourd is no longer seen.

Neither are the wooden backed erasers and the soft crumbly chalk that preceded the "dust-less" brand.

With these have gone the shattered and patched window panes, the rough untreated floors, often littered with gobs of mud carried in on boots and shoes. Along with all these have passed the old-time legendary teachers, men who farmed in summer and taught in winter. They often had little training beyond that equivalent to the eighth grade in a country school similar to the ones in which they taught.

The dress of the youngsters then would appear odd now. Some came to school barefoot until frosty weather. Straw hats for boys and poke bonnets or hoods for girls were common wearing apparel. Much of the clothing was home-made; often it was made over from the outgrown clothes of older brothers and sisters. High top leather boots and button shoes were the style.

The well nourished look of pupils now was absent then, when 'peaked' children were common. Eyes were 'weak' and spectacles were very uncommon. Personal cleanliness was at low ebb. Scabies and head lice were occasional found. The contrast in looks of both pupils and schoolhouses between then and now would be striking.

The games played were different from the ones of today. Their sports were mostly those that emphasized individual strengths and skills. There were not many team games. Among the almost forgotten games were hat ball, bull pen, old sow, shinny, rooster fighting, Indian wrestling (rasslin'), burn out, mumble peg, whip cracker, sling dutch, Spanish leap frog, setting pegs, wolf on the ridge, stink base and one and over. Perhaps the boys do still play pail, war or policeman.

Pupils of those one-room country schools varied greatly in age. There were those barely old enough to go and others 'of age'. There was no organized course of study, and pupils often went at their own place. There were 'B' and 'A' classes. One who could 'solve every problem in Ray's Third' was accounted a mathematician. When a pupil had finished the work the school offered, he often 'took it over again'. Older boys began attendance after the fall work was done and quit when spring plowing began. The very young often dropped out during the severe parts of the winter.

Qualifications of the teacher, aside from a certain earnestness, were often limited. A few grown-up boys and girls left after the equivalent of today's eighth grade, took the county superintendent's examination, and obtained a teacher's certificate. The writer entered the profession in that way.

This could go on indefinitely. During the years since he went wonderingly down the dusty road to his first day of school that one-time barefoot boy has seen schools transformed. He wonders what another 60 years will bring.

One question has repeatedly been asked: "If the opportunity could be had to live it all over, would you be a teacher again?" The answer is "YES, but a better one."

Law On The Farm

By Norm Krausz
A number of prominent stream pollution cases in recent years have brought questions about the legal rights of persons downstream. Cities and villages have caused most of the trouble because of inadequate sewage disposal facilities. However, some difficulty also has arisen from a few corporations with large amounts of waste disposal.

Many farmers rely on streams or rivers for domestic water supply and irrigation. Family and friends also use the water swimming, fishing and boating. Pollution restricts or completely cuts out these uses.

Illinois law gives protection to landowners. It states that a landowner has a right to have streams flow thru his land free of pollution. Cities and villages are required to construct sewage treatment plants approved by the state if a stream is used for sewage discharge.

There is a special group at Springfield called the Sanitary Water Board which hears and investigates complaints of pollution. This board has the authority to order a city, village, corporation or an individual to build adequate treatment facilities within a specified time. If the order is not followed, the board may obtain a court injunction to stop further pollution and may impose a fine of $500 plus an additional $100 for each day of violation.

There is another remedy under the Illinois Criminal Code that makes it unlawful to corrupt or render any source of water unwholesome or impure. If a farmer's source of water is being polluted, he may ask the state's attorney to take action. If the state's attorney finds that the law is being violated, he can bring a criminal action against the wrongdoer.

A conviction under the criminal code carries a maximum fine of $1,000 and one year's imprisonment. Also, the court may order the sheriff to abate the source of pollution.

Wrongful pollution may also be stopped, bringing a civil suit in the circuit court, asking for an injunction. By this action, damages may be recovered for injury that has already resulted from the pollution.

Outlook Letter For Farmers

By L. H. Simerl
Dept. of Agr. Economics, Univ. of Illinois

On Tuesday, December 11, corn producers will vote to determine which of two price support programs will be in effect during the next three years.

One of the two programs is the one that was in effect before congress passed the Soil Bank Act last spring. It provided for variable acreage allotments and for flexible price supports ranging between 75 and 90 percent of parity. Under this program the acreage allotments get smaller as the corn supply gets bigger. Also the price support level declines as the corn supply gets bigger.

Allotments are smaller. Acreage allotments for most farms will be about 16 percent smaller in 1957 than they were in 1956. Under this program the price support level would be $1.36 a bushel in 1957.

If the acreage allotment program is continued, and if the corn supply increases further, acreage allotments will become still smaller after 1957 and the price support rate will also be reduced, possibly to $1.25 or lower.

Congress seems to have stacked the deck in favor of continuing this program. A vote of two to one against it will be required to put it out.

Base acreage alternative. The other price support program that is available to corn growers would substitute base acreages for acreage allotments. It would allow farmers to grow a larger acreage of corn and still receive price support. The support level would be $1.31 a bushel. To qualify for price support, a farmer would put land equal to 15 percent of his corn base acreage into the soil bank.

This soil bank requirement could be met in either of two ways. Most farmers would underplant their corn base acreage by 15 percent and put this land into the soil bank acreage reserve. They would receive soil bank payments at the rate of 90 cents a bushel times the estimated normal corn yield.

A few farmers might find it profitable to plant their entire corn base acreage to corn and to put other land, equal to 15 percent of their base, into the soil bank conservation reserve. Payments under the conservation reserve would not exceed $14 an acre and would require a three or five year contract.

Bases larger than allotments. For 1957, base acreages will average 37 percent larger than acreage allotments. After subtracting for soil bank, most farmers would have 16 percent more land available for corn under the base acreage than under the acreage allotment. Since the national base acreage is set by law at 51 million acres, it will not shrink. Individual farm base acreages might be reduced slightly in order to set up bases for farmers in new commercial corn counties.

In 1958 and 1959 the price support level under this program would probably be continued at 70 to 75 percent of parity. The level announced for 1957, $1.31, is 74 percent of parity.

Each farmer will receive by mail before the voting date a notice of his corn acreage allotment and his corn base acreage for 1957. He can look at both. If two thirds of the farmers voting favor the base acreage plan, it will be in effect for the next three years. Failing that, the acreage allotment program will continue until congress changes the law.

Rate of grain is a hidden characteristic in cattle that is revealed only by time and scale weights.

The Illinois Purebred Sheep breeders association will hold its annual sale at the University of Illinois on Dec. 8.

Illinois farmers led the country this year in total corn production and set a new record average yield of 67 bushels an acre.

Seek Science Talent

Preliminary examinations in connection with the 16th annual science talent search will be held during the week of Dec. 17-21 at Carl Sandburg high school under the supervision of D. J. Hopkins, physics and chemistry teacher.

Students taking the science aptitude test will be: Jack Kennelly, Jack Bryant and Arthur Haning; senior chemistry and physics students at Sandburg high.

The science talent search for the Westinghouse science scholarships is conducted annually by Science Clubs of America, administered by science service. The purpose of the search is to discover and foster the education of boys and girls with skill, talent and creative originality in science.

Forty boys and girls who lead in the preliminary examinations will be given all expenses paid trips to Washington D. C. to attend the science talent institute for five days early next spring and take the final examinations for the scholarships. One contestant will be selected by a board of judges to receive a Westinghouse grand science scholarship of $2,800 ($700 per year for four years). One other contestant will receive a scholarship of $2,000 ($500 per year for four years). Eight more contestants will receive Westinghouse scholarships of $400, and $3,000 additional in scholarships will be awarded.

As part of the preliminary examinations, each contestant must submit a report of 1,000 words in length, on the subject "My Scientific Project." The three boys from Sandburg are certainly presenting a wide range of Scientific Project Titles; for Jack Kennelly has selected "Smog, the problem and How it Can Be Solved"; Jack Bryant has "A New Type of 40-Milli-Meter Anti-Aircraft Fuse"; and Art Hannig has picked "Atomic Fission, and its Applications".

It is hoped that all three of these projects may be on exhibit at the Second Annual Sandburg Science Fair, to be held the end of March.

WOODWORKING

Metal and wood classes are two of the four areas offered in the industrial arts program at Carl Sandburg high school.

The first year metal and wood courses are very general in nature. Small projects are used as a stimulus for learning to use hand tools and processes, and to develop planning and workmanship.

During the second year the students have selected an area in which they are particularly interested and proceed to study more complicated processes in this area. They learn to use machines, care for them, and use their own initiative in selecting and planning projects.

Metalwork offers a variety of processes. Each metal has distinct properties which makes it suitable for some type of work, and causes variations in working with it. In our metal classes we work with cold and hot metals depending on how it is most easily formed and the purpose for which it is to be used. Metal work involves crude forming and bending as well as precision workmanship.

Woodworking is attractive to boys for many reasons. It is worked more easily than metal and provides many useful projects. Skill and workmanship is required in woodworking as well as in other areas. Good design and planning are essentials for woodworking projects and stressed in this area as well as in others. We try particularly in wood working to stress the importance of hand tools because they are required in most projects. Hand tools are more likely to be found in homes than power tools

Since wood and metal are still basic materials for most of our building and everyday use it is important that we study these materials and learn to use them. The courses offered at Carl Sandburg high school are not vocational, but present basic skills, operations and processes which may help in a boys future occupation. In an industrial arts program it is hoped that the greatest benefit of shop courses is in the carry over value in school and later life.

745 Top Scientists Contribute to Book on Modern Chemistry

One of the greatest teams ever assembled in the field of chemistry, 745 outstanding scientists, has contributed to a monumental "Encyclopedia of Chemistry" edited by Prof. G. L. Clark of the University of Illinois.

This is the first work of its kind ever compiled. Prof. Clark spent more than two years arranging the 853 articles for the 1,200-page volume which portrays the entire scope of modern chemistry as an outstanding fingertip reference work.
